ALL SORTS.

—No small pox in Candelaria.
—Lung Protectors at Thaxter's Drug Store.
—For cold feet, get a Hot Water Bag at Thaxter's.
—Mrs. Judge Goodwin of Salt Lake arrived yesterday.
—Mrs. T. R. Hofer and family arrived from the Bay yesterday.
—Clem Berry and Tony Banning had a fracas yesterday. Clem was No. 2.
—A fine gypsum ledge has been discovered in Smith Valley, Lyon County.
—Dr. Harmon has made Brazilian pebble glasses for each one of the Supreme Judges. They can now see to read transcripts rapidly and arrive at decisions a little quicker.
—Croup, whooping cough, sore throat, sudden cold, and the lung troubles peculiar to children, are easily controlled by promptly administering Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. This remedy is safe to take, and certain in its action.
—"It is worth its weight in gold," is a common expression. But, while the value of gold is easily affected, the worth of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, as a blood purifier, never depreciates. It will eradicate scrofula from the system when everything else fails.

Where to Vaccinate.

The White Pine News is responsible for the following:
Carson City has a debating club, but judging from the numerous supporters given by this club, their gastronomic tastes wrestle more with grub than their brains with abstract questions. One of the questions fiercely debated in their hall, was whether a young lady should be vaccinated on the arm or ankle. The affirmative took the ground that a woman's arm was marred of its beauty by these pits resulting from vaccination, and that it would not be seen on the ankle. The club broke up in a row on the point.

Another Blizzard Victim.

SEWARD (Neb.), February 7.—Miss Etta Shattuck, the school teacher who was exposed for 78 hours during the recent blizzard, and who lost both lower limbs as the result, died here yesterday. Her back was so badly frozen that the flesh dropped off. She suffered intensely before her death. Her share of the Omaha Bee relief fund amounted to nearly $4,000. The money will probably be given to her parents.

Syrup of Figs

Is Nature's true laxative. It is the most easily taken, and the most effective remedy known to cleanse the System when Bilious or Costive; to dispel Headaches, Colds, and Fevers; to Cure Habitual Constipation, Indigestion, Piles, etc. Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Company, San Francisco, Cal. For sale by George C. Thaxter, agent Carson.

Fish Commissioner.

W. M. Cary, the Nevada State Fish Commissioner, was in Reno recently on business connected with his official position. An inspection of the dam at the reduction works disclosed the condition of the rock fish ladder to be somewhat impaired by the action of the ice and water during the freeze-up this Winter. A force of men will repair the ladder at once, so that the fish meet with no obstruction at that point.

The Most Agreeable

As well as the most effective method of dispelling Headaches, Colds, and Fevers, or Cleansing the System, is by taking a few doses of the pleasant California liquid fruit remedy, Syrup of Figs. For sale by Geo. C. Thaxter, agent.

Olcovich Brothers.

The well-known dealers in General Merchandise, call the attention of the public to the following facts: They have on hand a large and well-selected stock of Shoes. These they offer at a sacrifice to make room for Groceries and Provisions. Everybody is invited to call and inspect before purchasing elsewhere.

THE LEDGE DISCOVERY.

Something of the Recent Strike in this County.
Some two months ago Messrs. McLoughlin & Hawkins in boring an artesian well for Mrs. Langtry near the foot of the mountain where the North Carson mine is situated, came on a formation of rock which lay between clay walls. This formation was so hard that the drill bounded up, and it required seven feet of drilling to penetrate it and reach the under clay wall. When the debris of the rock came out of the tube it attracted the attention of the borers, who brought it to the writer's house. This rock, which was only a few ounces, was taken to the Bullion & Exchange Bank, where Evan Williams pronounced it rich silver ore, identical with the Comstock. It was assayed by Mr. Hofer, and the assay was $510 a ton.
Several mining men were informed of the strike, and on a cursory examination of the ground concluded that it was a continuation of the North Carson ledge. The North Carson being in a granite formation practical mining men did not consider it a good proposition, as a formation with similar walls on each side is not considered a favorable indication of permanency.

A few weeks ago Richard Kirman became interested in the strike and asserted that D. Norrie, the divining rod expert, could trace the ledge to its croppings, and then determine the character of its inclosing walls. Last week Mr. Norrie examined the ground with his rod, and to several parties on the ground indicated the direction of the ledge, and following this up to the Sugar Loaf mountain about a mile from the well, found the croppings, which were very plain on the side of the mountain. These croppings showed a slate hanging wall, and a porphyry foot wall; a kind of formation always considered good by mining experts. He then went back and traced the ledge across the corner of Marion Little's field to the deep cut made by the railroad on the hill side. The croppings at this point are identical with the croppings found on Sugar Loaf, and about a mile and a half distant.

About midway between, and on a line with the croppings is the well; which first tapped the ledge. It is therefore not unreasonable to suppose that the ledge extends all the way between these two points, else all geological indications are at fault.

Mr. Norrie, who put in a day examining the width of the ledge, says that it runs all the way from seven feet to one hundred and twenty feet thick.

After he had traced the lines of the ledge on the ground he was blindfolded, and in each instance traced the lines exactly as before. The APPEAL is not here prepared to discuss the question of the divining rod, but both Kirman and Rickey express themselves ready to demonstrate by a public exhibition that he can find buried metals blindfolded, and tell the kind of metal that is underground.

Yesterday Mr. Rickey told the writer that he was ready to back Norrie on a bet of $5,000 with anyone who was skeptical of his power. Another well will be sunk on the part of the ledge designated by Norrie as its widest part, and another assay made. If this assay is favorable, a shaft will be sunk.

The distance to the ledge as indicated by the well, is 260 feet. Mr. Norrie insists that the distance to the wide portion of the ledge is not so great. Norrie, without knowing now thick the ledge was as demonstrated by the boring, estimated it as seven feet; the same conclusion as reached by the borers.

Some years ago Mr. Bray located a mine on the ledge in the ravine, and the croppings of this location assayed $12.50. The rock of the North Carson ledge in the same hill ran from $63 to $1,800 a ton. Some of this rock a few years ago brought a net return of $600 a ton from Joe Douglass' mill.

That a ledge exists in the vicinity of the North Carson hill there can be no doubt, but its richness and extent remain as a matter to be more fully determined this Summer. Since the strike the parties interested have located 7,500 feet of the ledge and recorded them.
